Smash Sand And Gravel Trust, Heavy Fines Are Imposed

NEW YORK, January 18.—Four sand and gravel corporations and their officers and directors, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Hand here today to an indictment charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in connection with a monopoly in sand.

They agreed to dissolve the sand and gravel board of trade of which they were members and were assessed fines totalling $40,000.

"JOB HUNTERS" ALMOST Hungry Faithfuls Storm Republican "Pie Factory" DETHRONE 'BEST MINDS'

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1921, by The Times Publishing Company)

MARION, O. Jan. 17.—During the last week or ten days the "best minds" have had to look to their laurels in Marion. The job hunters have all but driven them out of their places in the sun. Just how the job hunters had the temerity to come here or how they managed to camouflage the real purpose of their visits so as to get by the vigilant young persons who are supposed to guard the President-Elect against this particular type of pest may always remain a mystery.

But Senator Harding himself has confirmed the fact that they have been here and several congressional visitors have plaintively told the President-to-be that they, too, have been pestered to death. The Republican "pie factory" it must be remembered has been closed for eight long years and the faithful workers in the ranks are hungry unto desperation. They are looking forward to the fourth of March as a day of judgment for all the wicked salary drawing Democrats and are hopeful that Mr. Harding, as President, will not long delay the swinging of the political axe.

National Job Hunters Encouraged

The national job hunters, it seems, have been encouraged the past week by what has been happening at Columbus in this state. There a Republican governor was inaugurated last Monday as the successor to "Jimmie" Cox, who had been in control of state affairs and state patronage for six out of the last eight years. The Ohio Republicans were hungry, too, and their new governor, Harry Davis, has been attaching them to the payroll as fast as resignations could be demanded and new commissions issued. It is going to be necessary to change some of the state laws to get certain Democrats out of long-term offices, but the faithful have been cheered by the news that these law changes are going to be made just as soon as it is humanly possible.

Can Pick Out Job Hunters

It is an easy matter to pick out the job hunters from the "best minds" at Harding headquarters. The "best minds" as they await their turn in the little back room where Senator Harding sits all alone, look serious and important. They gaze with a sort of fellow feeling at a three way picture of Senator Harding resting on the center table of the reception room. Looked at from the front this picture shows the well known campaign portrait of the next president. Looked at from the left the picture becomes that of George Washington. Looked at from the right it is the portrait of Abraham Lincoln. The "best minds" are interested in all three views. The job hunters, on the other hand, look at the picture along George Washington and Lincoln may have been all right in their time and place, but Senator Harding is greater than the Presidents with whom the picture links him. ### Favor Bond Issue For Soldiers' Bonus

COLUMBUS, O., January 18.—The senate military affairs committee today unanimously recommended for adoption the soldiers' resolution which authorizes a $25,000,000 bond issue, if approved by the voters at the next election. The house committee is expected to act upon the resolution Thursday.

COLUMBUS, O., January 18.—Legislative committees got down to the consideration of bills this morning for the first time since the assembly convened.

The prohibition bill, creating a commissioner of prohibition with at least twenty deputies, was in the hopper of the senate, having been introduced late Monday by Senator Miller, of Muskingum county. It is to come up for hearing tomorrow morning before the senate temperance committee. It is understood to have the approval of Governor Davis and is to be rushed through as an emergency measure.

Senator J. P. Burke, head of the temperance committee in the senate, issued a call this morning for the first (Continued on Page Six)

STATE OIL INSPECTOR IS REMOVED BY DAVIS

COLUMBUS, O., January 18.—For failure to comply with his order yesterday, to disburse with the services of forty deputy state oil inspectors, Governor Davis today summarily removed State Oil Inspector Charles L. Resch, and appointed William H. Walker, of Hillsboro, to the position.

The discharge of Resch was the immediate result of published statements said to have been made by Resch in which he was quoted as saying he could not run the oil inspection department with four inspectors as directed by the governor. Resch was quoted as saying that he would not obey the order until he had seen the governor. The tried several times yesterday to secure an audience with the governor.

Governor Davis commenting on the incident today pointed out that he would tolerate no disobedience on the part of any state employee.

"I bear full responsibility for the conduct of affairs of the state government," says a statement issued by the governor.

"When an order is issued by me I expect it to be obeyed implicitly. This is necessary in order that I may carry out the policies I have outlined."

"I have become satisfied that a force of four good men in the oil inspection department can do as much in the way of effective oil inspection as the entire force of forty men have been doing."

Appointment of Mr. Walker as state inspector was said to be only temporary and to enable the governor to work out a plan of reorganizing the department. It is expected that the work of the department will be merged with some other department.

Husbands Would Be Liable To Damages

TOPEKA, KAN., January 18.—Husbands would be placed in the status of employers with their wives as employees in their homes and the wives permitted to recover damages for injuries received while performing household duties under the terms of a bill introduced in the Kansas house of representatives today by Mrs. Mimmie J. Grinstead, representative from Seaward county. The measure was the first to be offered by one of Kansas' two women representatives.

HOME BREWERS ARE SUBJECT TO $1,000 FINE

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 18.—A ruling by the United States treasury department at Washington that manufacturers of home brewed beer are subject to a penalty of $1,000 was received today by John A. Grogan, collector of internal revenue for the eastern Michigan district. The ruling stipulated manufacture of home brew is a violation, even where there is no sale or evidence of consumption, it was announced.

The ruling was asked by Grogan in the case of a Detroit man and the revenue collector was authorized to begin action to collect a penalty of $1,000 from the Detroit man, who is charged with manufacture and possession of beer.

The treasury department holds, according to Grogan, that the Detroit man is liable to penalty as a manufacturer under Section 35 of the national prohibition act. "The penalty applies."

Mr. Grogan announced the ruling said, "wherever intoxicating malt liquors have been manufactured, this regardless of the ultimate disposition of the product, it applying in home brew cases as well as in cases involving the sale of the product."

The penalty, it was explained, is similar to the percentage penalty imposed on a delinquent income taxpayer, and is not a fine resulting from criminal prosecution.

Girl Slave Market Bared

FRESNO, CALIF., January 18.—The arrest of seven Armenian girls and a prominent Armenian rancher of Lone Star, near here, revealed today, according to George W. Moore, United States immigration commissioner, a plot by which Armenian girls are brought into the United States and sold to the highest bidder.

Moore, who has been working on the case for several months, said in one instance a young Armenian inspected the girls held for sale and paid a deposit on one who pleased him. The commissioner said the case was typical of many in which the girls, were made marriage slaves.

The School Child's Health

This is one of the most vital questions that the mother faces in all the course of her life.

If her child is not healthy it cannot succeed in its pursuit of an education—cannot grow into normal maturity.

Our Washington Information Bureau, realizing this, asked the American Red Cross to make for its distribution, a bulletin that would give the mother the best possible advice about keeping her child physically fit. The book is now ready. It is undoubtedly the most practical study ever made on the subject. IT IS FREE.

In the interest of the well-being of your children, send for it.

Financial Condition Healthier MILLIONS IN PAPER MONEY RETIRED Optimistic Outlook For Business

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—More paper money has been retired from circulation in the last eighteen days than at any other previous period in American history, and as a consequence the wrinkles have passed from the brows of our government officials. The process of deflation has followed normal lines. Nature has taken its course. Liquidation has been extensive. And the entire financial situation is healthier than it has been in some time.

Various statements issued by the federal reserve board, indicate when analyzed that about $245,000,000 in federal reserve notes have been retired in the last three weeks, which is about fifty million dollars more than was the case for the same period last year. Similarly since the middle of December bonds have decreased about $160,000,000 corresponding to the reduction in the amount of currency.

Officials are drawing optimistic inferences from these figures and are confident that it means a quick change for the better in business as a whole. For as soon as the taking of stock in January is completed, the buying of spring goods and the general demands of spring business will begin to be financed. The financial condition of the business world, as reflected in the data gathered by the federal reserve board, is satisfactory and the natural expansion of currency and increase of credits which occur in the early spring are confidently expected.

Purchasing Power of Dollar Rising

The retirement of $245,000,000 in Federal Reserve notes, has another meaning. The decline signifies a reduction by more than two dollars of the per capita circulation of money. Fortunately the cost of living is tending to decrease, and the purchasing power of the dollar is rising.

So far as is known, this reduction of more than two dollars establishes a new record. Certainly no such change has been recorded in an equal space of time. And as a further evidence of the success of the deflation campaign in American finance, the earning asset of the federal reserve board has dropped below the three billion mark for the first time since January 9, 1920.

Credit Contraction Worked Generally

In a nutshell, the policy of contraction of credit which the federal reserve board instituted last spring has had the desired effect only it begins to appear that the results were accomplished in less time than most people thought would be the case. And it begins to look as if the contracting hand (Continued on Page Six)

Newspaper Saves Him

RALEIGH, N. C., January 18.—The ill wind that blows somebody good sometimes even blows up an elevator shaft.

Frank French, watchman, fell into a comfortable snooze, while reading a newspaper, unlike John D. Rockefeller, Frank didn't relax when he fell asleep and drop the newspaper. He still clutched it.

Fire started at the bottom of the elevator shaft besides which Frank slept and licked upward until it ignited the newspaper. The burning newspaper smothered Frank's fingers, woke him up and he was just able to escape before his exit was cut off by the fire.

Frank now believes that a newspaper is always a useful commodity.

So Easy, Says Woman Bandit

CHICAGO, January 18.—Mrs. Cleopatra Hurtzman, 23, who until two months ago had spent her life helping run a farm near Wichita Falls, Texas, confessed today that she was the woman bandit who had played the leading part in fifty hold-ups in sixty days, many of them in the daylight.

"A smile or a tear were my only weapons," she was quoted as saying, "but I also carried a little pearl handled revolver for emergency."

Mrs. Hurtzman said she was married to Hurtzman two months ago and when his health failed they decided to become bandits.

"I acted as a lure strolling along the street."

"It was very simple. Sometimes we held up five or six persons in a day. It made me wonder why I spent 23 years on a farm, it was so easy."

DARING HOLDUP AT CHICAGO STATION

DETROIT, MICH.—Auto bandits held up messenger for Highland Park State Bank in Highland Park, a suburb, last night, and escaped with a satchel containing about $2,000.

Rob Ohio Girl; Take Her Car

CLEVELAND, O., January 18.—Two auto bandits drove up alongside of Miss Harriet Gieger, when she was driving her automobile on Franklin avenue early this morning, forced her machine into a curb and robbed her of $15 and escaped, one in the bandit car and the other in the girl's machine. Police later found the girl's car.

CHICAGO, January 18.—Five youthful bandits held up a United States mail truck at the Union station here early today, escaping in an automobile with twelve sacks of mail, ten of which contained registered mail. Police say that the best information obtainable this morning indicates the pouches contained part of a federal reserve bank money shipment which was to have been placed on a train leaving for St. Paul, Minn., at 2:30 a. m.

The bandits surprised three postal employees guarding the pouches, forcing them at the point of guns back into the truck, while the bandit car drew alongside and the twelve mail bags were transferred to it. The robbery was accomplished in a few minutes.

The regular mail was composed solely of city collections, the police say. The registered mail bags were supposed to contain currency and bonds whose value can not be estimated yet.

One of the postal employees said that only a few minutes after they had arrived with their truck the bandit car dashed up. The police believe the robbery was an inside job, as the bandits seemed to have knowledge of the bank shipments as well as the time the truck would arrive and the number of men guarding it.

Thomas Carter, Richard J. Slaney and Phillip Cahill, postal employees, said the five men, none of whom appeared to be more than twenty years old, all wore black masks, and carried out the robbery in such a short time that the attention of a watchman and a railroad mail foreman working nearby, was not attracted until the robbers were speeding away in their motor car with the twelve pouches.

Carter, who drove the mail truck, said he believed the bandit car followed him from the post office to the station. The alarm was sent to the federal building, the city detective bureau and the Desplaines street police station. Several squads of officers were on the trail of the robbers within a few minutes.

Postal authorities, while unable to estimate the amount of the loot, said the shipments to the northwest which (Continued on Page Six)

FILM PLANT BLOWS UP; TWO KILLED TEN INJURED

BAYONNE, N. J., January 18.—Two persons were killed and more than ten were injured in an explosion and fire in the plant of the Bellows Film Company here today. Two charred bodies, apparently blown through a window of the plant, were found beside the tracks of the Central Railroad near the factory. One apparently was that of a woman.

Firemen worked desperately to check the flames and rescue others who might be inside the building. Ten injured persons were taken to the Bayonne hospital.

Fifteen persons were inside the small building when the explosion occurred. Instantly the structure was wrapped in flames. Several nearby buildings caught fire, but were saved by prompt arrival of fire apparatus. The fire was caused by the ignition of films which flared up with a blast that shattered windows in the vicinity.

Aged Woman Is On Trial For Murder

Jury Secured; Hearing Of Testimony Begins

(BULLETIN)
At 2:30 this afternoon the state rested on its side of the Adams trial and the defense began to present its witnesses. Indications were at that time that the case may go to the jury not any later than Wednesday afternoon.

The trial of Mrs. Pauline Adams, aged 61 years, charged with second degree murder for slaying William Bond on the night of October 25, 1920, started before Judge Thomas, and a jury in common pleas court Tuesday morning.

The accused woman, who has been in extremely poor health, was conveyed to the court house in an ambulance by reason of physical condition and was carried into the court room. She sat beside her daughter, Mrs. Myra McKenzie, with whom she has been living at Nauvoo, but not once during the morning session of court did the defendant evince any interest in the proceedings.

Mrs. Vina Bond, widow of the victim of the tragedy, was present in court and sat at a table on the other side of the room with Prosecutor Sheppard.

A crowd of spectators interested in the proceedings packed the lobby of the court room before court convened and standing room was at a premium. Little trouble was experienced in selecting the jury, although both sides exercised the four peremptory challenges and one prospective juror was excused for cause before the panel was filled and accepted. James Brown was the juror excused for cause, and J. F. Dunham, Joseph Koerner, Henry Frowine were challenged peremptorily by the state and W. H. Barbee, Albert Yeager, Smith Crull and P. E. Roush were excused on challenge by the defense.

These men compose the jury and will hear the case: A. A. Hansen, Andrew Wolfe, G. A. Shumway, Jacob Rase, Frank Colegrove, J. L. Dodds, Gilbert Daulton, W. A. Plummer, Hugh Ellis, C. G. Keller, John Staker and John Warhell.

Prosecutor Sheppard presents case for state.

In his statement of the case, Prosecutor Sheppard told the jury that he expected the evidence to establish the allegations of the indictment which charges the defendant with slaying William Bond following some difficulty between the children of the gun user and the young son of her victim. He said he expected the evidence to show that the accused fired twice upon Bond purposely and maliciously while he was trying to get possession of his child.

In his statement for the defense, Judge Blair claimed that the evidence would show that the accused, now 61 years old, came from one of the best families of West Virginia, and that she is the mother of 12 children. He said it would be shown that she married a man named Adams and that she contracted a loathsome disease from him several years ago and that the disease so impregnated her system and constantly preyed on her to such an extent, that she became wholly irresponsible for her acts when under excitement, having no control over herself at such times. He stated that the question of the mental condition of his client had been brought up in West Virginia at various times.

Judge Blair further declared that the defense expected to show that the Bond family lived near Mrs. Adams on the West Side at one time and that Bond, or his wife, on one occasion drew a gun during some trouble. The attorney contended that at the time of the fatal shooting, which occurred near the Bond and Adams homes on Fifteenth street on the evening of October 23, Bond, his wife, Vina Bond, and their daughter, Clara Bond, aged 15 years, attacked Mrs. Eric Chapman, daughter of the accused, because she had shoved Lawrence Bond, aged 10 years, and requested him to go home. During the encounter, it was claimed,

Mrs. Chapman screamed for help and it was then that Mrs. Adams secured the revolver and fired the fatal shot, it was admitted, although it was contended that she was warranted in doing what she did.

Death Caused By Gunshot Wound

Coroner J. D. Hendrickson and Dr. S. P. McKerrigan were the first witnesses called by the state. They testified as to the result of the autopsy, both stating that Bond's death was caused by a gunshot wound in the abdomen. The physicians testified that the bullet, causing death entered near the right hip, ranging slightly downward and forward, and passed entirely through the body.

Mrs. Vina Bond, widow of the victim of the shooting, of 1200 Fifteenth street, was the next witness and she gave her version of the trouble after saying that Mrs. Adams lived at the time of the shooting in a house two doors away and across an alley from her home. She said on the fatal evening she and her husband were standing on the porch of their home when she saw Eric Chapman whipping her little boy and she ran to the aid of the child, her husband and daughter, Clara, following.

"I heard Eric Chapman say, 'I'll kill you,' and I replied 'no you won't,' and at that she struck at me and I hit back," Mrs. Bond testified. "Then I pushed her back against her home, and in an instant two shots were fired out of the kitchen window, one of which struck my husband and caused his death."

The witness declared that Bond was standing on the sidewalk a few feet away when he was shot and that he took no part in the altercation or scuffle.

On cross-examination, Mrs. Bond admitted that Bond was in the street when she first saw him after being shot and that he was back of her when the first shot was fired. She denied having any previous trouble with the children.

Eric Witness Tells About Tragedy

Mrs. Rosa Poole, who lives in the vicinity, was an eye-witness to the tragedy. She testified to seeing Mrs. Chapman pushing the Bond boy toward his home and telling him to go where he belonged. Mrs. Bond then ran down to where her child was and got in a scuffle with Mrs. Chapman, with the result that the latter was shoved against the side of her own home, the witness said, and "then two shots rang out and then I saw Bond walk into the street and sink down and exclaimed, 'I'm shot!'"

On cross-examination the witness stated the Bonds started down to the scene of the trouble about the same time, but denied hearing any screams until after the shots were fired.

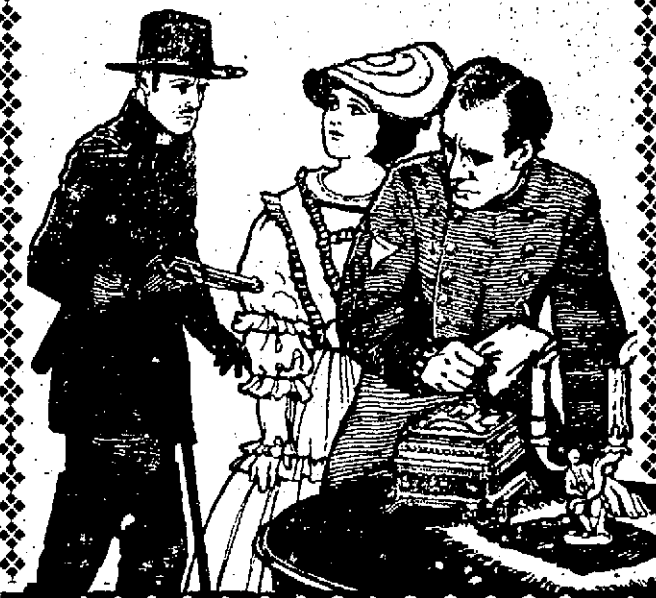

Clara Bond, daughter of William Bond, testified to seeing Mrs. Chapman pushing her little brother and that she called to her parents, telling what was occurring.

"Mother hurried down there and I went along, father coming after us. Eric hit mother twice and struck at me and in the scuffle Mrs. Chapman was backed up against the house near the window from which two shots were fired by Mrs. Adams," she said. The witness stated that her father said nothing nor offered to take a hand in the trouble.

On cross examination the witness declared she did not see her brother hit the Chapman child nor hear him ordered away by anyone, but she admitted that at the time the shots were fired she was holding her mother with one hand and Mrs. Chapman with the other.

Cor. Archie, colored woman, who lived in the same house with Mrs. Adams, testified that Mrs. Chapman ordered the Bond child to go home and took hold of him and tried to make him go, when Mrs. Bond came down and the two women started to scuffle and that Mr. Bond was standing nearby with his arms extended when the shots were fired. She could not say that Bond had hold of anyone at the time and she did not hear him say anything before he was wounded.

Prosecutor Sheppard stated he had been taken by surprise by the evidence of the witness, declaring that her story before the grand jury was materially different but she denied making other statements. Then came the noon hour recess.

20 INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK

GREENVILLE, O., Jan. 18.—Approximately twenty persons were injured, three or four seriously, when a day coach on west-bound Pennsylvania passenger train Number 7, enroute from New York to St. Louis, jumped a switch here at noon today and crashed into an eastbound freight train standing on a siding.

The engine, tender and baggage car of the express train passed over the switch, but the first day coach jumped the switch, throwing the end of the one car into the freight train. Several other cars left the track, but most of the injured were in the day coach.

Relief trains were ordered rushed from Richmond, Indiana, and from Bradford, Ohio, and the injured will be taken to those places for first aid treatment.

The day coach, three pullman sleeping cars and the dining car, left the track and were badly splintered, although they did not catch on fire. The accident occurred near the Greenville station.

All available doctors in Greenville were rushed to the scene and the injured were taken to their offices, to drug stores and other places where they could be cared for. The relief trains will carry them to city hospitals after first aid has been given.

The six most seriously injured are: Mike Kelly, Indianapolis, conductor of No. 7.

Joseph F. O'Connor, Columbus, Baruch hospital, right leg broken.

Howard Murray, Elwood, Ind., collar bone broken.

E. W. Sutton, Parsons, Kans., right leg broken.

Trees on a Boundary

When trees grow on a boundary line they belong to the owner of the land even though they be only six inches over the line. The fruit on the tree belongs to this owner even though the limbs extend over the other man's land. The owner cannot go on the neighbor's property to pick this fruit without permission, nor can the neighbor legally pick the fruit on the tree.

SAVE FIRST!

What is the first thing you do when you get your pay.
The tendency of most people is, quite naturally, to "buy something" the moment they receive money from any source.

But the RIGHT thing to do, if you wish to succeed financially, is to put some part of your pay in a Savings Account at the Royal Savings and Loan Company before you have a chance to spend any of it.

By SAVING FIRST you will be sure to make your reserve fund GROW—and we add interest to it at 4 per cent per annum, and compound this interest quarterly.

Carry an account in THE ROYAL—and be sure to SAVE FIRST when you get your pay.

ARMY LIMITED TO 175,000 MEN BY CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Congress voted late yesterday to limit the size of the regular army to 175,000 enlisted men.

The Senate by a vote of 41 to 33 set aside its decision of last week to reduce the army to 150,000 men and then without a record vote adopted the original joint resolution of Senator New, Republican, Indiana, directing the Secretary of War to stop recruiting until the army is cut to 175,000 men.

The House ten minutes later adopted a joint resolution sponsored by Chairman Kahn of its military affairs committee, also directing the secretary of war to cease enlistments until there are not more than 175,000 enlisted men in the regular establishment. The House vote was 285 to 4, only Representative Bee, Texas, Democrat, Alabama, and Condy, Maryland, Democrat, and Crampton, Michigan, Republican, standing out against the reduction.

The resolutions adopted by the two houses are almost identical in their provisions, each providing that the 175,000 limit shall not prevent the re-enlistment of men who have served one or more enlistments in the military service. The language of the two measures, however, differs somewhat and either the Senate or the House will send its resolution to conference for re-arrangement. Action by the joint conference committee of the two houses is expected to be taken speedily and the resultant measure sent to the president.

The action of the two houses was taken against the recommendations of war department heads and General Pershing. Secretary Baker in appearing before the Senate Military Affairs Committee advised against an army of less than 250,000 men after the "present necessity of economy had been relieved." General Pershing told the same committee that an army of 200,000 men constituted a safety margin.

The New Spring House Dresses Are Here

Prices Based On The New Low Prices Of Gingham

This is our annual house dress week. The time when we first show the new Barmon dresses for home wear. Our experience in handling this line for many years is that women find it to be the one superior line on the market.

Barmon house dresses have those extra features so popular with every woman, such as the tuck in the hem for lengthening or shortening. The adjustable back can be made to fit perfectly. The shields under the arms where the extra wear comes. Extra pieces for patching when the dress finally, after a long while, begins to show wear.

Barmon Electric House Dresses

Are made of ginghams and percales and prices are based on the new low levels, which makes the finished dresses much below the previous season's prices.

These new dresses must not be confused with common, plain, homely garments that too frequently have to pass for house dresses. These are made with some style. Women wearing these dresses are presentable at any hour of the day, if the door bell rings and company should come. There's style and there's fit.

The dresses come in either light or dark styles, are washable and very serviceable. Some are attractively trimmed with organdy, pique, crocheted buttons and the like. Most of them are belted or have sashes. Some are made for either high or low neck wear.

BARMON HOUSE DRESSES regular sizes, $2.50 to $7.50. Also carried in extra sizes 46 to 56.

Sale of 100 Boys' Wash Suits at $1.98. Values Up To $3.50

Beginning Wednesday morning we offer for sale (As has been announced in our window) one hundred boys' wash suits of the famous Kaynee make at only $1.98 for your choice.

Most mothers don't have to be introduced to Kaynee duds for children. These are the best color garments and made for regular American youngsters of the climb-a-tree-or-anything variety.

These suits come in ages 2 1-2 to 8 years and are valued to $3.50.

Let our children's store show you how to economize by selling you two to six of these suits Wednesday for each little boy of these ages.

Arrested Twice In One Day

HUNTINGTON, Jan. 18.—Warren Ballance, 28, an employee at the local Chesapeake and Ohio railroad station, who was shot through the right arm two weeks ago when he declared he resisted efforts of two stick-up men to rob him in a sensational hold-up on Eleventh avenue and Fifteenth street, was twice arrested yesterday, accused by the police with being the head of a gang of local automobile thieves. Three missing automobiles were found in Ballance's garage, police claim. He denies his guilt and asserts he has no connection with any of the stolen cars.

Now for a Big Sale of Bath Towels

At Real Before-the-War Prices

Now you can act with confidence. You knew what you were doing when you didn't stock up on Turkish Bath Towels when the prices were double and treble normal levels. We hesitated even to stock them at such high prices. But now! Ah, things are different. You held off buying. We held off. Other people and stores held off, until on the third of January, prices dropped like they were lead. And no small, measly reduction either. Our buyer went to New York, to headquarters, and when prices reached the before-the-war stage, he bought. They came in yesterday by express, many hundreds of them, and we have them on sale right now at the lowest prices you have seen any where for several years.

Fancy Bath Towels 45c, 59c and up

Here they are. All excellent values and high class in every respect. All in blue, pink or gold colorings. (Our plain white bath towels will arrive in about a week, then come for them, they'll be low). Just the towels every woman wants for her bath room. Your supply has been permitted to run down — everybody's has, for no one has been buying many towels owing to the extremely high prices. You can't get hurt now. You'll understand why when you see the remarkable values and the little prices.

See the big window display of these fine bath towels, all new and direct from the factory to you and at 1914 prices.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—On the evening of Jan. 12th a friend and I were looking at the crescent of new moon, and the two planets apparently near by. He contended the bright star or planet was Venus and the red star Mars. I contended the bright star was Mercury and the red star Mars. My friend sent for and got an almanac which substantiated his claim. I produced the American Book Co. almanac for 1921, and it said Mercury. Now who is right?

W. S. P.

Your friend was right as Mars and Venus were both visible on the date mentioned. Mercury was not supposed to appear on the scene until Jan. 16th.

Dear Miss Wise—I have a problem to ask you. I am a married woman have three dear little children all of school age. My husband is a good worker, is kind to me and he can for us but like many other men he has been out of work for some time. I try to buy a little on the grocery bill as possible, our grocery bill never has run quite to $10 for a week. I have quite a bit of fruit but have not got out potatoes, and so I am thinking of that kind in the winter, so I feel as though I had done very well with the bill, but he is not satisfied keeps saying it is too much. I get all my milk, butter, and meat on the grocery bill. I want to do to please him. Please advise me, I love my companion dearly do all I can to please him sometimes I think I do too much is the reason he is so hard to please. Excuse this scraggy paper as I have no other.

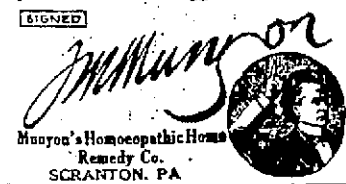

NEW BOSTON READER.

I certainly think you have an overwhelming problem to manage for a family of five on $10 per week. To run a grocery bill is bad policy when you have a little to go on, but if your husband is out of work there is nothing else you can do. A charge account has a tendency to lure one into worse spend. If you paid cash you would let your family eat rice or potato soup at the end of the week. If you do not keep a budget of your expenses, you should begin at once. You will find that you can keep your table cheaper if you plan ahead. I think your husband is wrong in criticizing your management. If you had a budget you could have him to over it with you and see for himself that you are not spending more than is absolutely necessary. You could also let him plan the meals and buy the groceries for a week and see how much he can get out of $10. I suppose you would spend half of it for tobacco and cigars. Yes, I think there is such a thing as being too good to be appreciated. Your husband is mean and selfish to criticize you when you are doing the best you know how on so little.

Dear Miss Wise—As a resident of Buffalo, N. Y., could you tell me positively how long I would have to live apart from my wife to get a divorce?

from her on the grounds of wilful absence. Please answer soon. TONY.

You will have to be a resident of the state of Ohio for one year before you can secure a divorce in this state. Then you will have to live apart for three years before you can secure a divorce on the grounds of wilful absence in this state. Why don't you get together and forget your troubles.

Dear Miss Wise—What should I do? I am a girl when being introduced by another fellow or girl?

W. S. P.

It is sufficient to say "How do you do Miss Blank," using her name of course.

Dear Miss Wise—We as friends are coming to you for a little information. We are a list of names for wedding witness fees in the Times one evening last week, we are unable to understand why our names did not appear in the list as we were both subpoenaed by the Sheriff in a divorce case more than a year ago. We have called the clerk several times and were told that the fees had not been paid in full. We were so embarrassed at the time to think we had to go to the court house that we thought it was worth at least $500, but along the small amount that is due us. So far we have not received anything. If the laws compel one to appear why don't the law see we are paid for our services at once and not keep us waiting. Hoping to see your answer soon, we are two who would like to be treated on the square. THANK YOU.

In most divorce cases the cost goes with the judgment of the court. In other words whoever loses pays. If the loser doesn't come across the cost is charged up as profit and loss, and the witnesses have to whistle for their money. Have you tried that? If you have received your money yet, it is the fault of the principals in the case and not the court. If the unclaimed money that was advertised last week is not claimed within a certain time it will be turned into the county treasury.

Dear Miss Wise—A short time ago, I was talking to a very charming young lady and she asked me to tell her a very valuable secret. I hesitated and she promised to tell me a secret in return, but after I told her mine, she said that one is not bound to keep all promises and that she wouldn't keep hers. Do you think that she is just playing for time or does she really mean it? Do you think that she should be trusted?

B. A. B.

She may have been playing for time and again she may not know any secrets. Some people tell everything they know even before they know it. I don't think I would trust her with anything I didn't want published. When you want a secret, tell it yourself, and then you will know it is told the way it happened.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Long, of Jamestown, Ohio, former Portsmouth residents, recently were hosts of a family dinner in celebration of Mr. Long's forty-sixth birthday anniversary. Twenty-eight relatives were seated at the table, and were served by Mrs. Long, assisted by her daughters, Misses Caroline and Mabel. The guests for the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Long, parents of the honoree, Cecil Long of Shady Grove, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Long of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Hearst Long and children, Pauline and Warren, of Grape Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Long and children, Joseph and Thelma, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long and children, Roberta and Charles, of Cedarville, Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Long and children, Marjorie, Franklin, Marie, Katherine and Russell of Jeffersonville, Mr. and Mrs. James Long and children, Bessie, Helen, James, Caroline, Mabel and Wesley. Miss Gail and Mr. A. E. Elliott of Portsmouth were detained from the celebration owing to illness.

Miss Sara Miller of Eighth street has issued invitations to a tea on Thursday afternoon, as a compliment to Mrs. Leon G. Marshall (Louise Micklethwaite) who will soon leave with Mr. Marshall for a few weeks' visit in Florida, before going to New York City to make their home.

Mrs. E. J. Stauder of 223 Gallia street will entertain the Merry Twelve Club Thursday afternoon.

Robert Moore of Sciotoville has returned from a visit to friends in Huntington.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be moist and entirely loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for the "owner of Pines" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BILLY WHISKER

Have you ever wished you could be in that wonderful place—back of the counter in a candy store? Back where all the cases are standing open inviting you to come and take and eat to your heart's content, instead of, in front, where the glass is between you and all the goodies so temptingly spread out? There were piles of chocolate creams, peppermint 'chews, peanut brittle, caramels, shining jars of sunshower sticks, and pan upon pan heaped high with taffy, that favorite confection of all fair-voers.

All this sweet array was spread there before Billy's greedy gaze, and when he realized the feast that was of molasses, all waiting to be packed into the small cartons that later in the days every boy and girl would be holding and declaring with each generous mouthful that "Chew 'em" was by all odds quite the best popcorn confection ever made and sold over the counter.

Billy had never lost his youthful liking for corn, and now wasted not another minute debating where he should begin—he knew. Nothing could possibly tempt him from the spot until he was fully satisfied.

I am sorry to say it, but I must wish to be honest. Billy forgot his manners and in his eagerness, got into the pan with his feet! He gulped the corn down so fast and buried his nose so deep that he lost his breath, and one stubborn kernel scooted down his Sunday throat. Billy choked, and with one mighty cough up came the offending thing. Never an animal with a great amount of patience, Billy grew angry at even this very brief interruption, though it was not a minute until his head was down as a dimp as ever.

The nearer he approached the bottom, the stickier grew the corn, and the better Billy liked it. Evidently the molasses had been poured over the corn not long before Billy's entrance, and the whole painful left to harden and crystallize. That on top had been just right for packing, but down in the pull where the air could not get in its work, the syrup was thick and still warm.

Billy gorged himself, with never a thought of the possible ruin it would work to his stomach, but fortunately, goats' stomachs are not the delicate organs that boys and girls have to take care of, and he had never been taught how wrong it is to eat too much of rich things that injure the busy, hardworking servant that gives us strength.

HOW TO BE RID OF DANGEROUS DANDRUFF

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely ruin your hair if you don't.

Dandruff heads means faded, brittle, scraggly hair that finally dies—new hair will not grow—your hair is useless and nothing can help you.

The sure way to abolish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, safely and without risking a penny get from your druggist a bottle of Parian Sage. This is guaranteed to banish all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and stimulate a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—and expels liquid neither sticky or greasy, easy to use, and instantly performed.

If you want beautiful, soft, thick, lustrous hair, and lots of it, by all means try Parian Sage. Don't delay—begin tonight—little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come.

Warner Bros., will supply you and guarantee money refunded if you are not entirely satisfied—Adv.

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

Tells How He Did It.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1-1 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

Job Hunters Storm Marion

cause he has the present day power to appease the office hunters.

Harding Merely Amused

One would imagine Senator Harding would be angered by the importunate and unexpected invasion of Marion by office seekers, but he seems to have been more amused than exasperated. There is no question but that the President-Elect has a big heart and a tender one, and he has great sympathy with the fellows who want to get on the federal payroll. He has consented to see most of them for a minute or two, but it must not be imagined from this that he is going to be so considerate in the future. The coming of the job hunters has made him more anxious than ever to get away from Marion on Thursday night and when he goes to Florida the office hunter who attempts to follow him there is likely to get short shrift. About the surest way of not getting a job is to pester Senator Harding while he is taking his vacation here entering the White House. The worm will turn.

and office seekers should beware. Aim High But Willing to Compromise

The aspirants to public service who have come to Marion have aimed high in their talks with the Senator, but as the conversation has progressed they have let it be known that if all the high places are bespoken, they will take whatever is left. One man came recently seeking an ambassadorship. He thought it would please his old mother, who is ninety years old. He thought in the end he might still please her if he was just made a clerk in an embassy somewhere, or a door-keeper.

The place hunters seem to have an amazing knowledge of all the jobs that are exempt from civil service protection. Either they have been to Washington to make inquiries on the subject or have taken a correspondence course. Once they fix their minds upon a particular place they have no modest hesitation about telling the Senator just what it is and why they are especially fitted to fill it.

Hayes As Grand Master of Job Hunters

Will H. Hayes, national chairman, and next Post Master General, was in Marion today in the role of Grand Master of the Job Hunters. He has a long list of those who rendered faithful service in the campaign and who expect to be rewarded at the earliest possible moment. Harry Danchberg, the next Attorney General, who was followed by Mr. Hayes, who followed him today, will help Mr. Harding in all matters of general patronage. It will be agreed by all who know that the new President certainly needs help in this respect.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for cod-liver—are prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like cod-liver—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

usually go out on the 2:30 a. m. mail train average about $100,000 in value.

They expressed the belief, however, that the bandits had obtained little or no value, because of the fact that Tuesday's shipments are smaller than those on other days of the week.

"Tuesday morning shipments are at ways light," said A. E. Gerner, acting chief post office inspector.

"Of course there are a great many registered papers and other documents but not much that could be of value."

Three of Governor Davis' appointees were awaiting confirmation by the senate today. They are: George T. Peck, Cincinnati, public utilities commissioner; R. W. Swisher, Columbus, civil service commissioner; and Henry Tykeman, Elvira, fire marshal. S. E. Torney, appointed state tax commissioner, was confirmed by the senate yesterday in order that he may hear testimony now being taken before the tax commission in regard to the proposed reapportionment of real estate. The other appointments are in the hands of the rules committee.

negotiated into money."

A week may elapse before an accurate figure covering the loss can be known, according to the postal inspectors.

The mail truck had been backed to the curb in front of an elevator used to deliver mail to the basement of the station. The hand truck arrived at a moment later and as it slowed up opposite the truck, three of the outlaws leaped from it, and ran across the street.

The trio faced seven postal and railway employees.

"We're armed. Do exactly as we say," said the leader, who ordered one of the mail handlers to remain on the sidewalk to avert suspicion and sent the other men into the truck to separate the registered sacks from the rest.

"Throw the sacks into our machine," ordered the leader, and as the railroad and mail employees complied, he added: "Much obliged. So long."

He leaped into the touring car with his accomplices and the car started. "Stop that machine. It's a hold-up," cried one of the railroad men. But the leader of the robbers brandished a pistol and pursuit stopped. It was the only sight of fire arms reported to the police.

WATKIN, O.—Police have no clues to the North Bloomfield Banking Company robbery when $25,000 was taken from safety deposit boxes.

PAINESVILLE, O.—Search made here and in Cleveland for two bandits who late yesterday bound and gagged E. S. Sawyer, bank cashier, and robbed the Lake County Savings & Loan Company Bank at West Mentor of $2,500 and escaped.

TOLEDO, O.—Eight men were being held at central police station here this morning on suspicion of being the bandits who shot and killed A. L. Long and Louis Schroeder, New York Central detectives, yesterday and escaped with $9,537, representing the railroad's Saturday and Sunday passenger receipts which were being conveyed from the Union station to a downtown bank. Two of the men held have been positively identified as members of the bandit gang who pumped a murderous fire into the bodies of the two dead men.

BUYRUS, O.—Burglars entered a tailor shop of Otto Feiring last night and took everything in sight. A number of suits ready for delivery and eighty bolts of cloth formed a part of the loot valued at $1,000. Other business houses were entered, but only small change taken.

Soldier Bonus

meeting of the temperance committee at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to take up the Miller bill.

The military affairs committee met today to consider the soldiers' bonus resolution, proposing the subsidizing of a $25,000,000 bond issue to the people at the next November election, which if approved, would authorize the payment of a bonus of $10 a month for each month's service, or not more than $250.

The committee on elections was expected to approve today a proposal for employing an expert to revamp and codify the general election laws of the state. An appropriation of $15,000 may be asked to carry on this work. George Schof, Canton election board clerk, may be employed, it was said, to have charge of the work.

World License Chiropractors

Meeting for the first time today, the public health committee in the house took up the bill initiated by the chiropractors' association proposing the establishment of a separate board for the examination and licensing of chiropractors.

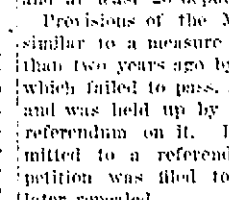

A new reorganization committee of the legislature was ready today to operate with Governor Davis in his plans of reorganizing state departments. Senator Bellows, of Hamilton county, is chairman of the senate committee on re-organization, appointed yesterday, and Representative Dunn, of Wood county, heads a house committee appointed for the same purpose. They are expected to meet this week with the governor and George E. Frazer, state plan of re-organization.

Provides Appeal For City Employees

Police and firemen would be entitled to appeal to the courts from decisions of the local civil service commission, the same as chiefs of police and fire departments, if a bill by Representative Taylor is enacted. This is one of several measures being backed by labor. Miners are back of a bill introduced by Representative Chadwell, Jefferson county, requiring installation of telephones in mines, as a safety measure.

Representative Weaver, Knox county, would repeal the public utilities statute requiring certificates of necessity from the state public utilities commission before a new telephone company can go into a territory already served in a bill proposed yesterday.

Senator King introduced a bill to put teeth in the miners' wash house bill passed last year. The bill passed last year without a penalty clause, and was not enforced.

Shoeworkers Strike In McElwain Plant Goes Into Effect

MANCHESTER, N. H., Jan. 18.—The strike declared by the local branch of the United Shoe Workers, Saturday, against the W. H. McElwain Shoe Company's announcement of a reduction of the wage scale went into effect today. Company officials indicated that they did not expect the strike would interfere with operations.

Although the McElwain factories here employed nearly 5,000 in busy times, production has been greatly curtailed of late, in addition the company has two factories in Nashua where the wage reduction also is effective. The Nashua factories have been closed for two weeks, and no announcement of immediate resumption of work has been made there.

WORCESTER, MASS., Jan. 18.—The Whittier carpet mills were closed today by the strike of 300 weavers in protest against a cut of 25 per cent in wages.

On Close Thought.

"Did you close that deal for the sale of your farm?" "No," replied Farmer Cornsossel. "The folks filled up an advertisement for summer boarders. When I read it over it made the place seem so comfortable and attractive I couldn't think of leaving it."

How It Happened.

"How did you happen to vote for prohibition?" "I did it 'cause I got the general state of grouch," replied Broncho Rob. "Everybody in Crimson Gulch got sort o' huffy with everybody else an' we seem to get some kind o' satisfaction out o' standin' around an' seein' one another suffer."

Rebuked.

The persevering landscape painter knew that he had an observer looking over his shoulder at the easel. He knew from the rustle of skirts that the observer was a "prettily the observer steadily on." "Charming landscape," she said. "Ah, you flatter me," said the artist modestly. "Compared with the original landscape it is very poor stuff." "I meant the original," said the observer.

Only Fault They Don't Have.

We have moments of depression about our dear old ladies in the electric limousines, as they lumber down the wrong side of the street and negotiate the turns in their own independent way, when we feel that all can conscientiously say for them is that, so far as we know, they never drive when under the influence of liquor.—Ohio State Journal.

With the arrest of Roy "Dick" Graham in Cincinnati Monday afternoon by Officer Callahan Smith, the authorities have caught and jailed all four of the young men who broke into the Geisler and Hetzel meat market on Market street the night of Dec. 29 and carted away the firm's big iron safe and close to $1,000 in money. The arrest of Graham, who was found at the home of a cousin in Cincinnati, came close on the heels of the arrest of the other three, Paul Schreck, 19, Ray Taylor, 21, and Charles Burt, 20, who were taken into custody Sunday, the two former being arrested here by police officers while Burt was arrested at Vanceburg on orders of the sheriff.

Graham, who is 21, did live, at 435 Front street, this city, had been working with his father in Cincinnati since the robbery and burying of the safe. His father is a contractor and is running an old storage building in the Queen City. Officer Smith worked with the Cincinnati police Monday morning in an effort to locate the young man, and in the afternoon the local officer himself found Graham at the home of his cousin, Frank Norman, 210 Plum street. The arrest was made about 3:30 o'clock, Officer Smith bringing Graham to Portsmouth Monday evening.

Graham was arraigned before Municipal Judge Small Tuesday afternoon and pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully breaking into the Geisler and Hetzel meat market. He was bound over to the grand jury under a $1,000 bond which he was unable to furnish this afternoon.

According to Officer Smith, Graham talked freely of the robbery coming up on the train and he was also talking Monday night when policemen at the local station questioned him concerning his part in the robbery.

According to the officers, Graham admits taking part in getting the safe out of the meat market and to the West Side, where he helped bury it, but claims that he did not get a cent of the money out of the safe and that all he received was the small change taken from the cash register which was rifled at the same time.

In telling his story to the officers, Graham said that he left Portsmouth January 3 to secure work and that he did not leave the city with the thought of running away from the police. Graham is well known in the West End and was often seen in the company of the trio arrested Sunday. The part he played in the robbery became known to the officers Sunday, when Schreck and Burt confessed, implicating their pals.

Schreck, Taylor and Burt were arraigned before Judge Small Monday afternoon, and were held to the grand jury on bonds of $1,000 each.

With Graham's plea of guilty and his being held to the grand jury on a $1,000 bond, all four of the young men taking part in the robbery, are behind the bars awaiting the action of the grand jury.

POLICE CONGRATULATED

Chief Distel and members of his force are being congratulated over the good work in the unravelling of the mystery attached to the stealing of Geisler and Hetzel's safe and the arrest of the robbers who burglarized H. Leet and Company's warehouse in Sciotoville. They did splendid work in both cases as the young men implicated in these robberies have already pleaded guilty. Chief Distel was ably assisted by Capt. Startzman, Callahan Smith, Noah Payne and Theo. Branham.

These officers worked untiringly to locate the guilty persons and deserve much credit for the efficient manner in which they worked up both cases as there were many difficult angles attached to each "job."

Isn't it So?

AGRICULTURAL EXPLORER RETURNS AFTER LONG SOUTH AFRICAN TRIP

The upper photograph shows native "boys" bearing the explorer's spoils from the Upper Nile region. The lower picture shows Dr. H. L. Shantz being carried through a swamp on the back of Koleremengo, one of the "boys."

Dr. Horner LeRoy Shantz, well-known botanist and agricultural explorer, recently returned from a long South African trip for the U. S. government. The spoils, seeds and cuttings from heretofore unknown plants were brought down the Upper Nile region via porters. To bring his finds in Dr. Shantz was compelled to employ seventy-five native "boys." Koleremengo, one of the "boys," employed by Dr. Shantz, attached himself to the party when the explorer first landed at Capetown. He remained with him until the end of the trip.

"They WORK while you sleep"

You are bilious, constipated, head-achy, full of cold, muzzling. Your meals don't fit—breath is bad, skin sallow. Take one or two Cascarets tonight for your liver and bowels and wake up clear, rosy and cheerful. No griping—no inconvenience. Children love Cascarets too. 10, 25, 50 cents.

PLAN TO HURL PLANES FROM CATAPULTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Naval airplanes instead of "taking off" from the decks of ships while at sea, will be hurled from catapults if experiments of the Navy Department prove successful, the House Naval Committee was told today by Captain T. T. Craven, director of naval aviation. Tests are being made, he said, at the Washington navy yard, where it is planned to shoot a seaplane from a catapult soon to see if the plane is feasible.

The navy is attempting also to construct collapsible planes so they can be taken down and stood in-board during bad weather at sea.

The Bill Is Never Long Overdue

We all need recreation, but often we pay too dearly for it. Continued over-eating, late hours and irregular habits are apt to bring their price in kidney troubles. Daily backache, dizzy spells, headache, rheumatic pains and urinary irregularities are warnings of kidney weakness. Neglect may lead to gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease. For quick relief, moderate your habits and use Doan's Kidney Pills. They are praised the world over. Ask your neighbor.

Here is a Portsmouth Case: Lewis Fanner, Carpenter, 129 Eleventh St., says: "When I stooped over a severe pain shot up from the small of my back. The kidney secretions were scanty and passed too often with a burning sensation. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney pills and I bought some at Finner's & Blake's Drug Store. Two boxes fixed me up in this short time."

Unmarried War Veterans Must Return Part Of Disability Payments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Unmarried war veterans must return to the government as income tax four per cent of any disability payments they receive in excess of $1,000 a year. The treasury department ruled today that it could not under the last exempt such men, although those still in the service are required to pay only on amounts in excess of $2500 a year. War risk insurance payments, however, are not taxable.

PLEADS GUILTY TO WAR RISK INSURANCE FRAUDS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—William F. Salisbury, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y., and David M. Griswold of Brooklyn, N. Y., pleaded guilty today in the District of Columbia to two indictments in connection with war risk insurance frauds by which a number of wounded war veterans were induced to large sums of money to expediate their claims against the government.

$2,000 A Month For Support Of Daughter

MINEOLA, N. Y., January 18.—Mrs. Marguerite Lebandy, who killed her husband, Jacques Lebandy, at their Westbury home in January 1919, today was allowed $2,000 a month for the support of her 16-year-old daughter Jacqueline.

COAL DUST LODGED IN MINER'S LUNGS

Tells how his cough was conquered and health restored.

"In November, 1916, I was working in a coal mine and the doctors said the coal dust had settled in my lungs. I couldn't lie down on my right side, coughed so I couldn't sleep and had constant pain in my right lung and under my shoulder blades. I coughed so hard the blood would spurt out of my nose. Finally the doctors had me change climate and live outdoors, but didn't improve.

"Then I came home and started on Milks Emulsion. Thank God I did, as it did me a lot of good right from the start, loosening up the coal dust in my right lung. In a few weeks my lungs were free. I could sleep like a baby, had an excellent appetite and my cough left me entirely. I gained back 30 pounds in weight and went back to work in the mines completely restored to health."—G. H. Dunn, 614 Ave. and N. 13th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Thousands of victims of dust-filled air develop the same trouble that Mr. Dunn had. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try, so why not at least try it?

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physic. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

"This is the only cod-liver oil made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take one bottle a day with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

BANKS ARE LIABLE FOR SAFETY DEPOSITS

COLUMBUS, O., January 18.—The state supreme court today held banks operating a safety deposit department in connection with the institution are responsible for the safe keeping of articles left for safe keeping in the case of Louis Bonheuris against the Warren Realty & Trust Co. Bonheuris had $10 in money and $200 in liberty bonds in a safety deposit box which disappeared. He sued the company and recovered judgment. The supreme court upheld the lower court.

Quick Way to End Stomach Trouble

Simple, Inexpensive "Maltix" Works Wonders for Stomach Sufferers

You can now quickly end your suffering from headaches, gas, belching, bloating, sour acid stomach, nervousness, loss of appetite, heartburn, heart palpitation, nervousness and other symptoms of indigestion and dyspepsia.

Just read what these reliable people say:—Mrs. Jane Curran, Dela. W. Va., writes, "I suffered with stomach trouble for twenty years and could not even drink cold water without it making me sick. I took two bottles of Maltix and now can drink and eat anything."

Mr. Robert Thompson, Rising Sun, Ind., writes, "I feel just the same I could eat anything now and have no misery whatever to suffer. I am 78 years of age."

Satisfy yourself that there is one way to quickly stop the stomach misery you've been enduring. Just get a bottle of concentrated liquid MALTIX and use it as directed. You get relief at once. You'll get back your appetite and enjoy eating. Never mind how long you have suffered or what you have tried. MALTIX is guaranteed to give satisfactory results or money refunded, that's how sure it is. So get a bottle today, it only costs 75 cents and if your druggist cannot supply you, send price to The Maltix Co., Fort Wayne, Ind., and you will receive it promptly by return mail.

You can get it in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Smith Pharmacy.

Overheard in 2000 A. D.

"Now, this is the skeleton of a man who lived in the twentieth century."

"Why is one arm so much longer than the other, professor?" "This is not an unusual case. You will notice that the right arm is several inches longer than the left and is due to the custom quite common in those days of clinging to a strap with the right hand while holding a newspaper in the left hand."

Married Life.

"Was your courtship romantic?" "A little bit. I met my wife on the 78th floor of an office building. We took the elevator together. At the 57th floor a minister got on. We noticed him, eventually reached the ground floor, sent for a license and were married."

The Resourceful Gardener.

"Have you a vegetable garden?" "I started it as such. But since the chickens and insects have gotten busy I have decided to call it a zoological garden."

Only Fault They Don't Have.

We have moments of depression about our dear old ladies in the electric limousines, as they lumber down the wrong side of the street and negotiate the turns in their own independent way, when we feel that all can conscientiously say for them is that, so far as we know, they never drive when under the influence of liquor.—Ohio State Journal.

Ten Cottages Destroyed In Summer Resort Blaze

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 17.—Fifty farmers acting as volunteer firemen, chopped holes through the ice on Lake Erie late yesterday afternoon and saved the summer colony at Lakeside, Michigan, from destruction by fire. Ten cottages were destroyed.

Only one of the cottages was occupied. The fire started from an overheated stove in the LaBounty pavilion and dance hall and spread rapidly ahead of a gale which blew from the west over the lake. Lakeside is 15 miles northeast of Toledo. The blockade of Flume has been completely raised in conformity with the orders of General Cavaglia, commander of the regular Italian forces along the Adriatic.

Poet Adventurer To Leave Fiume

TRIESTE, Jan. 18.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, former insurgent leader in Fiume, will leave that city this week, having obtained passport visas for Switzerland, Greece, Spain and France. Five hundred of his legionnaires still remain in Fiume. The blockade of Fiume has been completely raised in conformity with the orders of General Cavaglia, commander of the regular Italian forces along the Adriatic.

Chiropractic Bill No. 13

I wish to inform the people of Portsmouth and Scioto County of the importance of the Initiative Chiropractic Bill which is House Bill Number 13. It provides that we shall have a Chiropractic Board of Examiners of examine Chiropractors and it shall be self sustaining by each Chiropractor paying an annual re-natal fee each year to defray the expense of said Board.

Qualifications: A Chiropractor must be a graduate of a 1st grade High School or its equivalent and must be a graduate of a reputable Chiropractic College which gives a 3 year course of actual attendance before he or she shall be permitted to take the examination for a license to practice Chiropractic.

The State Medical Board in the six years that it has had authority over Chiropractic has failed to provide any plan of licensing or regulating the Chiropractors. Not a single Chiropractor has been licensed or even admitted to examination in that time except those licensed under the waiver clause of the Platt-Ellis law.

The State of Ohio, Scioto County, SS:

O. L. Knechtly, being duly sworn, says that he made application to the Ohio State Medical Board to take the Chiropractic Examination to which he was eligible, he further says he received a letter from the Secretary of the Board that he was not eligible, that the Secretary of the board refused to return his application when requested to do so and refused to give any reason as to why O. L. Knechtly was ineligible, merely stating that the application had become the property of the state.

O. L. KNECHTLY.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of January, 1921.

E. M. OAKES,

Notary Public, Scioto County, Ohio

You can plainly see that the Medical Board has been biased and prejudiced to Chiropractors. Thousands of people know by their own experience what a wonderful science Chiropractic is: many whom would have been invalids the rest of their life had it not been for this Science.

It is generally conceded that the Medical profession is against this bill, however, this is not true of high class and fair minded physicians.

We do not believe in compulsory medicine or compulsory Chiropractic but we do believe that everyone should choose for himself that attention he desires.

All persons who have been benefited by Chiropractic are requested to so advise Representative George E. Matthews and Senator C. K. Patterson, State House, Columbus, Ohio and to request them to support the Initiative Chiropractic Bill, now before the 34th General Assembly.

HENRY RUGGLES HEADS FOREMEN

Henry Ruggles was elected President of the Selby Superintendent's and Foreman's Association Monday evening at the regular meeting of the organization when officers for 1921 were elected. Mr. Ruggles who had been secretary has been an active worker in the Association and will make a very able leader for the association.

The other officers were Vice-President, August Doll; Secretary, Miss Myrtle Ziegler; Treasurer, Watson Goddard; Sergeant-at-Arms, Harry Simpson.

The Association met at 4:30 in the restaurant room of the factory and enjoyed a supper after which the business meeting was held. A talk was made by L. Dols on the Selby Shoe Re-cutters' Convention held last week at Milwaukee.

C. J. Hauck made a talk on Shoe Manufacturing.

Henry Basmah, foreman was admitted to membership.

At the close of the meeting the members adjourned to the Selby Recreational Room on Gallia street and enjoyed a bowling tournament and pool.

Wheelerburg Class Enjoys Fine Banquet

The biggest event that Wheelerburg has ever known in the way of Sunday School activities was featured Monday evening when more than one hundred, most of whom were members of the Men's Bible Class of the Wheelerburg M. E. church gathered in the High School Auditorium for a Men's banquet and general good time meeting.

It was a marvel that the war song and all the dainties that go with it disappeared. Thanks to the good ladies who worked so hard to prepare these "comforts of life."

While the men were overloading their stomachs with the delicious repast their consciences were soothed by the sweet music rendered by the Wheelerburg orchestra under the masterful leadership of Mr. R. C. Wood, teacher of Manual Training.

Commercial subjects in the Wheelerburg High School. The Orchestra is composed of the following High School pupils: Miss Carrie Parris, pianist; Claretta, William Jenkins and Marjorie Fahr; violinists, Lillian Sullivan, Eva McCowen, Homer Hall, John Parr, Francis McCowen, Ellen Mc-

Clare and Geneva Shela; Cornetists, Lorinda Trolson, Edna Andre, Helen Mackay and Gladys Hughes; trombones, C. H. Glenn and R. C. Wood; Drummer, Valancy Heffer.

After all had "well eaten" Toast Master, Rev. H. A. Kirk, took charge and introduced Prof. F. K. Stafford, the president of the class who read the proposed constitution which was readily adopted by the class. The name of the class as adopted will be "The Ninety and Nine". The class song will be the well known song by the same title. The motto of the class will be "For Christ and Others."

The toastmaster then called on Prof. E. O. McCowen, Geo. E. Koch and Prof. F. K. Stafford, who responded with very timely, tasteful which were followed with two special selections by the class male quartette. The tables were then cleared away and two very spirited basket ball games and a volley ball game followed.

Those present at the luncheon were: Messrs. G. W. Smith, Edward Messer, H. A. Sherman, J. B. Lee, C. J. Herns, Callahan Blair, W. J. Haffner, Edward Duduit, Will Groh, C. E. Fritz.

Misses Katherine and Honora Conley of Fifth street, returned home this afternoon from Wilmington, O., where they attended the funeral of their little nephew, James Reardon. Mrs. Katherine Conley and Mrs. E. M. Beechler, mother and sister of Mrs. Michael G. Reardon, remained with her.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The stock market drifted aimlessly at the dull opening of today's session, although losses exceeded gains. In no important instance, however, were changes more than fractional. Reading's selling ex-dividend, recovered part of yesterday's reaction and the trend of other rails was moderately upward. Steels, equipments, coppers and oils were slightly over or under yesterday's final prices and specialties manifested the same uncertain tone. Early quotations for foreign exchange pointed to a continuation of yesterday's advance, demand sterling mounting to 37 3/8, a new high record for the year.

SOCIETY

Misses Katherine and Honora Conley of Fifth street, returned home this afternoon from Wilmington, O., where they attended the funeral of their little nephew, James Reardon. Mrs. Katherine Conley and Mrs. E. M. Beechler, mother and sister of Mrs. Michael G. Reardon, remained with her.

After a visit with Miss Maude Wilson of Highland avenue, Miss Martin Frances Johnston has returned to her home at Caledonia.

Mrs. George Linn of Springfield is here for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Timmonds, of Second street, who recently had the misfortune of fracturing her ankle in a fall.

Funeral Services Today

Funeral services for Love J. Carlin, who died at the home of her daughter Mrs. J. Dennis Thomas, 1413 Third street at 11 o'clock Sunday morning after an illness of two years, was held from the home this afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. N. E. Butler in charge of the services. Burial was made in Greenlawn cemetery.

Funeral services for Robert Hillard, well known salesman for the Gunning Cigar company of Chillicothe, were held from the home at 341 Mill street, that city Monday afternoon with a large number of Portsmouth people in attendance at the funeral.

Mr. Hillard, who was familiarly known to his many friends in this city as "Bob" was very popular here and his every visit meant much to his friends. He was in this city about one week out of every month.

LUNG VICTIMS ARE ASKED TO KEEP AWAY FROM CALIFORNIA

Health Commissioner Dr. O. D. Taylor has received the following explanatory communication from the Director Bureau of Tuberculosis of California:

At the annual meeting of the California League of Municipalities, an organization in the state composed of all city and county officials, the following resolution was offered by the Bureau of Tuberculosis of the State Board of Health and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the cities and counties of the State of California have a serious problem in their own communities, and

Whereas, the State has no provision for non-residents suffering with tuberculosis, and

Whereas, the housing of tuberculosis patients is a serious matter in the counties of California:

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the California League of Municipalities respectfully urge the State, City and County Health Officers of the Eastern and Middle Western States to publish during the winter months, a warning against the migration of tuberculosis persons of very limited means, or those who are indigent, unless the patient is able to give a guarantee that he will be cared for. Otherwise it will entail hardship and misery for the patient and constitute a serious problem for the community in which the patient attempts to live.

It is, of course, unnecessary to explain further to you the reason for such a resolution beyond the fact that the Government has contracted for a large number of beds in both public and private hospitals, and this, with the influx of persons traveling only with funds enough to reach here, or who hope to obtain light work which does not exist, makes it necessary for us to appeal to you in order that much misery and suffering may be saved these people and to urge you to stress the fact that climate without good food, rest and medical care has never cured tuberculosis.

We bespeak your consideration and help by giving this resolution publicity in your State, in order that much suffering and hardship may be saved these unfortunate people.

Thanking you in advance, I am Very truly yours,
E. L. TAYLOR THOMPSON,
Director, Bureau of Tuberculosis.

When Grandmother Was a Girl

Hoop skirts were worn by those who first asked the druggist for, and insisted on having the genuine Golden Medical Discovery put up by Dr. Pierce over 50 years ago. Dress has changed very much since then! But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were over fifty years ago. Nearly a million bottles were sold last year. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. ten cents for trial package tablets.

Making a Start

A small new community had talked for some time of building a clubhouse, but it was postponed from time to time. One day Arthur came running into his home and, as he had just seen a wagonload of logs pass by, exclaimed: "Mamma, they are starting the clubhouse. I saw a load of clubs going by."

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Mrs. Little Tells How She Suffered and How Finally Cured

Philadelphia, Pa. — "I was not able to do my housework and had to lie down most of the time and felt bad in my left side. My monthly periods were irregular, sometimes five or seven months apart and when they did appear would last for two weeks and were very painful. I was sick for about a year and a half and doctored but without any improvement. A neighbor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and the second day after I started taking it I began to feel better and I kept on taking it for seven months. Now I keep house and perform all my household duties. You can use these facts as you please and I will recommend Vegetable Compound to everyone who suffers as I did." — Mrs. J. S. LITTLE, 3455 Livingston St., Philadelphia, Pa.

How much harder the daily tasks of a woman become when she suffers from such distressing symptoms and weakness as did Mrs. Little. Such trouble may be speedily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Yellow Dog

NUMBER 10

Coming back to the fundamental principals of good service, put yourself in our place, and think what you would do under the circumstances.

Picture yourself as a stockholder in this street railroad; wouldn't you feel about the same about this rate question as we do?

Wouldn't you complain, and make a big kick for some relief? I venture the ascertation you would be up on your hind legs clawing the air.

We feel like doing this at times, but after wrestling with this problem for four years, and spending much time fretting and stewing over the outcome perhaps we are becoming immune to the disease, and are inclined to accept the conditions as a sort of unavoidable pestilence as the yellow dog does his fleas, but even the yellow dog whines occasionally when they get after him too strong.

It is doing me a lot of good in one way to unload all of this stuff, to get it off my chest as it were; much of it has been corked up since long before the Volstead Act became effective, and you will all have to admit that was a long time ago. I guess it is a natural trait to like to unfold your troubles, but it has been so long since we had any good reports from our street railroad that I am sure the opportunity to recite to you some of the pleasures of operating a street railroad on a fair basis would come as a much needed tonic. Sometimes I feel curious to know how many people are reading these articles and wonder if I am really driving home the story I want to tell; perhaps some of you might have the solution to these problems; one presents itself to me at this instant, can any of you tell us how to stretch seventy-five cents so that it will pay for a dollar's worth of operating costs? If you can this will go a long way toward the solution of all this trouble, and we won't have to take up any more of your valuable time, and we can all live happily everafter.

When you get backed up in the corner with your back to the wall, many things flash through your mind! another happy thought occurs to me as a solution. Perhaps there are enough public spirited citizens in our midst to operate the cars without remuneration; this would be a fifty-fifty break with the stockholders, and would be an eminently fair policy to be consummated.

This would allow the company sufficient funds to pay all its operating expenses and fixed charges, and the stockholders would only be out the return on the money they have invested in the property. Easy now, don't crowd, you will have a chance in your turn, but the first to apply shall have the pick of runs, but remember the company reserves the right to fire you if you don't attend strictly to business.

Of course both of these solutions are a pretext to the point which we deem the meat of this whole proposition.

Why should the stockholders who have already spent their money to build this street railway be obliged to continue to furnish additional money to pay operating expenses any more than you should?

This is a community proposition and we are furnishing a community service for which we are entitled to a reasonable profit; this is all we ask and nothing more.

THE MOVIES

How Would You Feel? About What? Read Below and See and Don't Fail To Come to the Temple Tonight to see "The Man Who Lost Himself." It's the Best Five Reel Comedy You Ever Saw. Comedy, Too.

How would you feel—
If you woke up one morning to find that overnight you had become some one else?
If you insisted you were yourself, but couldn't get any one to believe it?
If you insisted so much that your brand-new relatives concluded you "got" and had you placed in a sanatorium for the rest of your life?
This is but one of the many comedy situations in "The Man Who Lost Himself," which will be shown at the Temple tonight. Remember, William Robertson-Cole played the leading role in the "Squaw Man?" Well, he's the leading man in this production, too.

The Temple management personally guarantees this to be one of the best pictures that have shown in months. So don't miss it. A 5-reel comedy completes the show.
A Kindly Attitude.
"Have you any objections to me as a son-in-law?" asked the young man. "Yes," replied Mr. Cumrox. "At present you're cheerful and companionable and I like you first rate." "Then why not have me in the family?" "I don't want to take a chance on spoiling you. I don't know how you would turn out after mother and the girls had bossed you around for a few years."—Washington Star.

DON'T SPOIL A GOOD MEAL WITH A BAD STOMACH

It is really a pitiful sight to see so many thousands of people worrying about what they can eat and what they can't eat.
Dyspepsia, they call themselves, but they stretch the imagination when they try to do it.
All these people need to make them healthy, cheerful and of round appetite is a box of M-I-O-Na Tablets.
The stomach of a dyspeptic is overworked and run down. It needs help to digest the food, but more than that, it needs a prescription that will cleanse, renovate, strengthen and put elasticity into the stomach walls.
M-I-O-Na is the prescription that will do this and do it so promptly that you'll wonder why you didn't try it before.
It stops belching of gas and distress after eating in five minutes. It is undoubtedly the greatest stomach tonic ever given to the public by a specialist in stomach diseases.
Worster Bros. and leading druggists everywhere sell M-I-O-Na on the money back plan.

ROBERTSON-COLE
WILLIAM CHURCHY CABANNE'S
Successful Human Document

Every Man Woman and Child Who Lives and Loves Should See Wm. Christy Cabanne's Powerful Human Document "The Stealers" at the Eastland Theatre Tonight Last Time—Acclaimed The Most Extraordinary Production in the History of Motion Pictures—A Wonderful Act—Special Musical Setting and Harold Lloyd Comedy.
The picture play with a soul is here. It is "The Stealers," William Christy Cabanne's powerful human document—a Robertson-Cole eight-reel, super-special, which will be the leading attraction on the bill of the Eastland tonight.

"The Stealers," as its name implies, is a crook play, but it is the most remarkable play of its sort. The central figure, and the one around whom all of the virile action of the piece revolves, is a clergyman who turns his gall into what he believes a vast mockery of God through the use of God's word as a decoy for a band of traveling crooks of which he is the head.
The master-thief, gifted with rare eloquence, holds his audiences spellbound while his confederates go among the enchanted auditors relieving them of money and jewelry. How his scroffer eventually repents of his wrongs and again turns to the God he had eschewed and blasphemed goes to make a climax unequalled on the American stage or screen for the sheer intensity of its dramatic force.
The picture has been announced as Mr. Cabanne's masterpiece. From the enthusiastic manner in which it has been hailed by the critics it undoubtedly is.

Subway Development.
The first "subways" were cut for pipes and wires, large enough for a man to walk in, and supplied with inspection openings. These were installed in Paris by Napoleon III. The Chicago street traffic subways were first built in 1867-71. But in our general modern acceptance of the word, the first "subways" were those of the deep underground steam railway of London, built in 1825. The first "road subway" in the United States was that in Boston, 1827.

Frank Mayo in "HONOR BOUND" UNIVERSAL

Frank Mayo is the attraction at the Exhibit Theatre Tonight In The Newest Picture, "Honor Bound," A Rousing, Outdoor Romance Laid in a Land That Knew Not God or Law—Also Other Good Attractions.
A man who is a savage in civilization but who becomes civilized when transplanted to savagery, and another man who is the slave of his environment and acts civilized or savagely accordingly, are the two important dramatic personae in "Honor Bound," the intense emotional experiment of Jacques Jaccard, starring Frank Mayo, which comes to the screen of the Exhibit tonight.

"Honor Bound" is far from the "actor-proof" photoplays designed for pretty leading men and fluffy ingenues. Written by Jaccard, who also directs it, it expounds in action his virile theories on matters now engaging the attention of scientists and thinkers. Yet in pure dramatic fiction interest it is said to be unexcelled.
Frank Mayo, versatile young Universal star, has one of the most trying characterizations of his career in the part of Billy Thorpe, the young American whose "pep" has not sufficient outlet under the shackles of polite society. Sent down in South America as assistant superintendent work with a vine and accomplishes a man's work. Then he is thrust into a cauldron of primitive emotions, under the stress of which he suffers "the throwback" upon which the theme of the story is developed.

Dr. J. E. Hawk, district superintendent, delivered the sermon at the Manly evangelistic service Monday night. His text was "They Were All With One Accord In One Place." Dr. Hawk spoke of the spiritual influences of places and associations and the necessity of personal sacrifice for the carrying out of God's work effectively.
It was made clear that people could carry on a revival at home quietly but the influences surrounding the meeting in one place of people so that they can think and act together was more conducive to a revival spirit.
The second district conference was held after the service and a large representation of men is expected. Public invited.

Woman's and Court's Ide as of Right And Wrong Vary; Couple Fined
Angeline Barnett, 55, and Tom Stevens, 35, arrested at 3:15 a. m. Tuesday morning at the woman's room 1145 Mill street pleaded not guilty to criminal charges but their answers to questions put by the court were not satisfactory and they were found guilty and fined $25 and costs each. The Barnett woman said that Stevens had been doing carpenter work at her home and that she did not think it was wrong to let him sleep in the same room with her. The arrests followed complaints the police received about the woman.
She says they were married March 24, 1914, at Greenville, Ky., and through Attorney Miller and Seal complains that White beat her six days after her youngest child was born and while she was still confined to her bed left her in destitute circumstances. Further she declares the defendant has failed and refused to support her and her children since March 1917 when he left and has been since willfully absent, she declares.

CUT THIS OUT
Old English Recipe For Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises
If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving them from suffering perhaps from total deafness. In Catarrhal deafness for a long time past have recognized that treatment of the catarrh is the key to the relief of the deafness. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove effective affections to sufferers who live under more favorable climate conditions.
Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Permut (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Do not eat anything that is rich, greasy, or indigestible. Breathing becomes easy and hearing improves as the inflammation in the catarrh tubes is reduced. Permut used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, cost little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

Democrats On Tax Commission Will Probably Be Replaced

COLEMBUS, O., Jan. 18.—S. E. Forner, Tinsawaw county, formerly clerk in the tax commission, became a full fledged member of the commission this morning, the senate having confirmed his appointment by the governor last night. He succeeded A. B. Peckinpaugh, Democrat, on the commission. The tax commission now has a Republican majority but is not expected to reorganize until the other Republican member has been appointed and confirmed. Daniel J. Ryan, the public member, appointed by Governor Cox, was not confirmed by the senate last night. John W. Cassidy, Logan county, the Democratic member of the commission, was confirmed. As soon as the other Republican member is confirmed and appointed, it is expected that George Galbreath, of Portsmouth, secretary of the commission and several other Democratic appointees outside of the classified service will be replaced.

THE WEEKLY TIMES SUSPENDED

THE Portsmouth Weekly Times, established first in 1854, and revived after a temporary suspension in 1860, has been discontinued by its present owner, The Times Publishing Company, and is now but a memory in the history of Ohio journalism, in which for many years it played a conspicuous and ever honorable and fearless part. The passing of the paper was but an inevitable result of the evolution of Portsmouth journalism. The coming of rapid transportation and the extension of daily mail service to all parts of the county, placed the daily paper in reach of every one who desired it, and so the circulation of the Weekly Times dwindled to such a figure that its publication was no longer profitable. For the past year and a half it had been published at a loss and so it was decided to suspend its publication. To all weekly subscribers in Scioto county the Morning Sun is being sent, without extra charge, until their subscription has expired. To subscribers outside of the county money paid in advance will be refunded for the unexpired term.

No newspaper ever better fulfilled its mission than did the Portsmouth Weekly Times in its day and generation. From the date of its resurrection in 1860 by Hon. James W. Newman, from which its real history dates, it was a high class, fearless, outspoken newspaper, a leader in thought and action in this section and in the state. Mr. Newman was a great newspaper man, an eloquent and most able editorial writer, and he and his paper were widely quoted. The Portsmouth Times enjoyed prosperity from the day he took hold of it, along through the many years to 1894, when he disposed of it to the newly formed Times Publishing Company which began the publication of a daily paper named after the good old weekly. With the advent of the daily edition, the weekly began to fade. Its staunchest friends preferred the news every day to the news once a week, and as fast as the weekly would gain a subscriber it would lose some to the daily. The decline of the weekly became more pronounced with the marvelous extension of the mail service and when its circulation dropped below the one thousand mark, as it did this year, it was decided by the publishers the time had come to suspend it altogether.

There have been vast changes in newspaper activities during the past few years, due mainly to rising costs of publishing and amount of money necessary to equip plants. The whole tendency now is, in towns under 50,000 towards one good newspaper, rather than two or three as was formerly the case. In towns around 50,000 to 150,000 the tendency is towards one morning and one evening paper, both issued from the same plant. Within the past week there have been several consolidations and suspensions, with the above end in view. Ex-Governor Cox, a wonderfully keen newspaper observer, told the writer when he was in Portsmouth during the presidential campaign last fall that he was particularly struck by this phase of newspaper evolution during his swing around the country and found everywhere that it had worked out successfully.

It was in keeping with the development of newspaper progress that the Morning Sun has been established by owners of The Times. We believe it will find a field for itself and eventually will become as firmly established as The Times. The Sun is not a flash in the pan. It has started out at bed rock, at the worst time of the year, and under adverse business conditions. Things could not be any worse for the launching of a new venture, and yet we chose this time because we felt that The Sun would thus start at the bottom, get the early publication kinks ironed out, and then grow steadily into public favor. It is a good paper now. It will get better each week and it will keep on growing.

THE LESSON TO BE LEARNED

SIX days of this week are specially set aside for the teaching of thrift, with the idea, of course, of having its rules not only learned, but followed habitually. As often insisted in these columns there is no great saving virtue, in a material way, and morally it involves a great deal too. Thrift is unfailing assurance of today against the possibilities of tomorrow.

It embraces industry and economy, diligence in earning and equal diligence in saving. It is far removed from stinginess. Thrift obeys the laws of wholesomeness in all things and avoids all the failings of improvidence.

With it is the knowledge that denial now of indulgence and waste means security and plenty for the hereafter. It is not a question of doing things in a big way, but in security. No calls come from it to pinch and starve. Its wise counsel is to lay by a little in the absolute certainty that in the course of time much will come of it.

All of us are too prone to place no value on the small. No vision impresses us in the old injunction that the mighty oak from the little acorn grows.

Sometimes we think that in those far away days of which history gives us no authentic account and in which there is common assumption no civilization the tribes knew more of science and certainty than these boasted learned generations do. They knew the mountain from a mole hill grew, they knew the end of keeping varringly at it. Down in Peru there is an aqueduct leading from the plains far up into the Andes mountains. This aqueduct is about three feet wide and in places several hundred feet deep and cut through solid granite for hundreds of miles. With what instruments it was cut no man now knows, the surmise being it was dug out by hand with copper picks. In any event the implement was small and must have been yielded laboriously and stroke by stroke by an individual. An infinite task, it would seem, but the task was eventually accomplished.

Merely an illustration. Happily thrift does not work that slowly because it ministers to its own strength. Save a little and that little not only encourages to save more, but it earns for itself, and in no great while it will double and treble itself and still go on mounting.

The government recognizes this fact and that is why it continues the sale of war savings stamps, the best of all securities, because they are in the reach of all and absolutely safe. There can be no loss in them unless everything on earth goes to rack and ruin. To it the knowledge is fixed that he who constantly puts by something, be it little or much, is thereby a better citizen and will require nothing from it of him, except protection of his liberty and property.

THE TRUE STORY OF YAP

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 18.—Who gets the island of Yap? The Bureau of Insular Affairs said the Navy Department ought to know, and the Navy Department felt sure that the State Department would know and maybe the State Department does know, but it isn't saying anything.

Ever since Yap was introduced to the Peace Conference it has been a bone of contention and a diplomatic mystery. It was "casually" brought into notice at Versailles by President Wilson, who suggested that the United States would like to have Yap for a cable station, and asked that a special conference be called later to arrange for its disposition.

It was the only bit of territory that the United States had wanted, and certainly nobody outside of the State Department, perhaps, had any idea that a simple little thing like a seventy-mile island would be disputed in view of what other countries were raking in. Word spread abroad that the island of Yap was the one thing we were to get out of the war, and Yap became a familiar illusion in American conversation. Everybody knew it was an island, and some people could even locate it—at least to the extent of being sure that it was in the ocean, probably in the Pacific.

Meanwhile, the United States hung back about signing the treaty, the cable conference was not called, and it became known that, a long time before, Japan and England had become interested in the welfare of Yap and had made a secret treaty to provide for its future. The treaty arranged for the German-owned islands in the Pacific to be divided into two lots—those above the equator for Japan, and those below for Great Britain. With this agreement in mind, Japan had already run up the Japanese flag in Yap, which is one of the Caroline Island group, east of the Philippines.

At the same time Japan sealed all the cable ends at Yap. This meant that communication in the Pacific was crippled, for Yap is an important cable center, with lines running to Shanghai, Guam, and Manila, so that these points are connected with the United States at San Francisco. Guam, not far from Yap, is also a cable base, but the Pacific needs two, in case of storms or damage to one of the cable lines. Our commercial communication with the East has for some time been hampered as a result of the Japanese seizure of the cable base at Yap.

Japanese Now There Japan is on the ground, but the Peace Conference presumably agreed to Mr. Wilson's conference suggestion, and it would seem, gave him to understand that the cable rights of Yap, if not the island itself, were to be ours. This is the highly strategic situation, regarding which the State Department finds no words sufficiently meaningless to be safely uttered at present.

As a piece of land Yap wouldn't be worth any nation wasting language over. As a cable landing it is a prize which is not to be carelessly abandoned. Yap as a tropical island, however, is far more interesting than Yap as a cable base. It is a seldom visited island, but it has had one enthusiastic biographer in William H. Furness, who has given us a fascinating account of the life and ways of the Yappers.

In Yap, Mr. Furness found a communist scheme of life operating on a really practical basis. Certain peculiar factors make practicable in Yap that communism life which has so often failed in western countries. These are the character of the land, and the temperament of the people.

The Yapper literally picks his clothes off the bushes. Long grasses and leaves make up the skirt which is all the woman wears, except a few flowers. She plait and weaves her long skirt together with a very little labor, and it lasts about a month. The man wears still less in quantity—a loin cloth, a small grass girdle, and the inevitable string of beads. If he is a free man, he also displays a comb in his hair.

The natives, children and all, live on coconuts, fish, yams, and other easily-found foods. Their houses are built of beams with low thatched roofs. Everything is at hand, and their wants are few. The Yappers have no ambitions, no worries and few jealousies. There is no trouble about getting work done because there is so little to do. The bachelors of a tribe build and live in what corresponds to a fraternity house. When one marries, he builds a hut for simple housekeeping, and returns to the men's quarters mainly for pow-wows and other ceremonies to which women are not invited. The children of Yap roam about and pick up food any where, and sleep as often in one house as in another.

Stone Money Life is reduced to its lowest terms without sacrificing comfort. Yet the people of this island do not go to the limits of communism. They believe strongly in personal property, and they have a rigid monetary system. It is extremely rude to enter another's house without invitation. As for the money, it is not in constant circulation, for there is not a great deal to buy, but there is a good deal of it in evidence. To purchase some trinket, or fish from the fishermen, shell money is used. But in big transactions, in a real estate deal, or in buying a canoe, stone money must be produced.

This stone money is quarried on an island 400 miles away and shipped to Yap where it is official currency. Each piece is as round as the cutters can make it, and has a hole in it. Size determines the relative value of the coin. A small coin would be about a foot in diameter, a middle-sized coin would be the size of a car wheel, and a big coin might be as much as twelve feet in diameter.

Of course, these biggest pieces of currency cannot be carried about. They cannot even be got inside the native houses. Usually the owner of the fortune has it propped up against the house, or against a tree in the yard, and there it stays. Nobody could steal it without rousing the neighborhood. And there is practically no theft in Yap, anyway.

When small pieces of stone money change hands, the new owner hoists his pay on a pole and staggers home with it. If the payment is too unwieldy for him to roll or drag it home, and he does not wish to call in assistance, it is quite customary to leave the money at the former owner's house and perhaps mark it so that the new owner can claim it.

It is not at all necessary to be able to point out one's treasure to be known as a wealthy citizen in Yap. It is satisfactory to be the rightful owner of the money, and to have it so known among one's friends. Thus, one prominent family had a great piece of stone money made and was bringing it home on a raft when the stone flopped overboard and sank. The crew escaped drowning and came on to Yap to tell of the occurrence. It was not accounted a financial disaster, for the money existed. There were a number of reliable witnesses who had seen it, and could show the place where it disappeared. It was just as good at the bottom of the bay, they decided, as it would have been in the front yard of the family mansion. So the family continued to be regarded as wealthy, and this money, for several generations, has had the same purchasing value as any visible currency.

These people who find life so simple are not semi-civilized or even barbarians, but they are rather high in the savage scale. Dr. Furness describes them as "of the Malayan type—a light coffee colored skin; hair black and inclined to wave or curl, not crinkly, like the Melanesian and African, eyes very dark brown, almost black; cheek bones rather high and noses inclined to be hooked, but not prominent. Since the sale of intoxicants and gun powder has been prohibited, except to the trustworthy chiefs, they are gentle, docile, and lazy."

These natives cannot read or write, even their own language, so they may not know that the United States is engaging in an after-the-war conflict over their little island. They probably would not care any way, so long as the battle rages at a distance. All the Yappers want is peace and quiet.

Questions AND Answers

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Portsmouth Daily Times Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Q. How many hairs are there on the human head? E. W. T.

A. Authorities differ somewhat, but it is calculated that there are more than 100,000 hairs on the head of an adult. There are about 1,000 hairs to the square inch. As a rule, the finer the hairs, the thicker they will stand on the head. Light blond hair will run as high as 140,000, brown hair about 100,000, black hair 108,000, and red hair 60,000.

Q. How many notables were voted into the American Hall of Fame in 1920? M. N. B.

A. The following were given this distinction: Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), Augustus St. Gaudens, James Buchanan East, Friedrich Heagy, Wm. T. G. Morton, Roger Williams, Alice Freeman Palmer. This makes the membership total $2.

Q. What is the annual cost of maintaining the Library of Congress? V. V.

A. The annual cost of maintenance is now $925,825, including $200,000 for printing and binding. Which division of the Army suffered the greatest loss of men? Q. R. S.

A. The Infantry suffered the greatest loss in wounded and killed, the former being 215,660 per 1,000 and the latter 12.77. The Signal Corps was second, with 52,222 wounded and 3.13 dying of wounds.

Q. Has Austria a new President, if so what is his name? A. I. B.

A. Dr. Michael Heineisch is the new President of Austria. He was elected on December 9, 1920.

Q. Which of Thomas Edison's inventions is considered the greatest? T. F. E.

A. Mr. Edison says he has not decided which of his inventions is the greatest, but he likes the phonograph the best.

Q. Can a submarine discharge a torpedo while submerged, and can a torpedo travel beneath the water, or must it skim along the top? H. F. T.

A. The Navy Department says that a submarine can, and usually does, fire the torpedo while submerged. The torpedo travels submerged, the depth at which it travels being subject to adjustment from zero (water level) to thirty feet below.

Q. What counties are included in the fruit belt of Michigan? D. T. W.

A. This fruit belt includes Allegan, Van Buren, Berrien, Muskegon, Oshtemo, Mason, Manistee, Benzie and Leelanau.

Q. Is there a law in the United States prohibiting the wearing of birds on hats? H. J. B.

A. The Federal Migratory Bird Act does prohibit the wearing of many kinds of birds or birds' feathers.

Q. Describe the moth and usually does men look for them in order to get rid of them. J. A. S.

A. The larva of a true clothes moth is a dull white caterpillar, with the head and the upper part of the next segment light brown, and is never seen free from its movable case or jacket. The eggs are minute, not easily visible to the naked eye, and are commonly placed directly on the material which is to furnish the larvae with food. In some cases they are deposited in the crevices of trunks or boxes, through which the newly hatched larvae enter.

No Fox; No Rabbits. Foxes have figured in the fables of every race of men on earth since the dawn of history, writes Dr. R. W. Shufeldt in the American Forestry Magazine. "Take what the fox did out of the fables of Aesop and other writers of fables and their work would be robbed of four-fifths their interest."

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Down where Chinatown bares off the Bowery is a spot is the Longacre Square of the skyscrapers and teams with gay night life. The blue lights of Chinatown, the dull buzz of gas jets, the shriek of the elevated span in the clouds and the halloo of tongues from dizzy fire escapes make a picturesque setting. The Delmonico's of Chinatown Square is Beefsteak John's, where the floor is carpeted with gaudy, and John himself with sleeves rolled up, deals "cut off" the arm and sees that no one takes his place for any "charitable" jump. Shadowy faces greet shadowy passers, and a street that is a tatterdemalion by day becomes gaudy and tinsel by night.

Accomplished little flirts in flippant frocks loiter about in Broadway, lounge about the movie entrances—like models drawn to the flame. Their faces are drenched with red and coated with white and in a bright light look eerie. The stores project the mental attitude of the section. The groceries are placarded with price signs. The drug store windows are filled with cosmetics and little medicines.

Young boys in caps, ineptly pugnacious, stand about in groups smoking nonchalant cigarettes. Sandaled and slippers feet of Chinatown dwellers move in and out. Everyone seems to be on the alert for something for a police captain once said that in Chinatown Square "you could get a guy to knife you for a dime."

There are old hags, too, who quizzically ask the stranger for a penny or so. They always need just a few more pennies for a night's lodging. Somehow they haven't the courage to ask for the full amount. In the old days when they got the price of a drink they made for the bums near Brooklyn Bridge, but now they can buy direct from the street bootlegger—at so much a swig. A little in the background is a mission where tired, shuffling men go to read the motto on the wall. "When Have You Written to Mother?" and snoop in the comfortable benches. There are street harpists and accordion experts. The children are still at play at midnight. There are dimly lit shops, beset by evil odors of fish, garlic and frying grease. And before midnight comes the Salvation Army band to enliven things and limit for weeping sinners.

A professional dancer in a moment of confidence the other day showed us his weekly statement for the services of his wife and self. It amounted to $2,104. They appear in a de luxe restaurant for 25 minutes each night. Just a few years ago he was making $30 a week as a salesman.

Among those who are taking the crime wave seriously is a small gang on Fourteenth street, near Union Square, which has swung above the pavement the ostentatious sign: "Learn to shoot!"

I dropped into the shop of a chain of stores on Fifth Avenue. Standing at the counter was a pleasant faced man with a gray Vandike beard. He was the type you might expect to find if you sought the advice of a great lawyer or a great surgeon. A woman stood beside him. She had a well-modulated voice that bespoke refinement and her English was perfect. She was middle-aged.

They were looking at a variety of boxes of cigarettes the clerk was showing. Said the man: "I think, dear, you had better try the milder sort. You knew last year at Palm Beach the strong cigarette irritated your throat." When I left she was courteously but firmly holding out for the stronger brand.

His wife she bought some yeast. They mixed and stirred and made a brew. And had a dainty feast.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

GUY F. ALLEN

The general public had heard little and knew less about Guy F. Allen before President Wilson recently appointed him treasurer of the United States. But Allen has been giving the government—and the public—his line and energy ever since 1901. In that year he entered the treasury department as a bookkeeper. He was named assistant treasurer a year ago. During the war he drew attention of government heads by devising a new accounting and bookkeeping system for the American army operating in the war zone. The system simplified and facilitated checking supplies, etc.

Allen was born in Michigan, but for the last five years has made his home in Somerset, Md.

G. F. ALLEN

Mother Goose Modernized

By Cyril B. Egau

Jack and Jill went up the hill

To get a drink of rye.

When going up they walked quite straight,

But coming down, Oh, My!

Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard

To get her old man a drink;

But when she got there, the cupboard was bare

And so she went to the sink.

Jack Spratt could eat no fat,

His wife could eat no lean,

And each one for the other's taste

Was never very keen.

So Jack went out and bought some hops,

And so she went to the sink.

Prohibition is over two years old and Pinky Kerr is still walking around as well as lively as ever. Ancient Rome didn't have nothing on the way we're living today except the chariot races.
